Superman: The Art and Making of the Film

- BY JAMES FIELD; INTRODUCTION BY JAMES GUNN; FOREWORD BY DAVID CORENSWET

James Gunn's Superman marks the triumphant theatrical return of Smallville's favorite son, kicking off a bold new era of DC storytelling under the umbrella of DC Studios.

In Superman: The Art and Making of the Film, fans are granted an exclusive behind–the–scenes look at Gunn's vision for a Superman that brings the character back to his optimistic, heroic, and brightly colored roots with all the action, adventure, humor, and heart that audiences have experienced in his previous DC entries, The Suicide Squad, Peacemaker, and Creature Commandos.

Author James Field (The Art of The Batman) documents every stage of the film's production, from Gunn and his DC Studios's co–chairman and co–CEO Peter Safran's earliest conversations about what their vision for Superman would be and what he would represent, to the comics they would turn to for inspiration, to costume and set design, and continuing on to post–production FX.

Field conducted interviews with all of the film's key creatives and presents an engaging narrative of the highly collaborative filmmaking process.

The book includes an introduction from writer/director/producer James Gunn, a foreword by Superman himself, David Corenswet, and a plethora of concept art and unit photography.

Featured are Metropolis—inspired directly by the art of Superman co–creator Joe Shuster, the staggeringly beautiful Fortress of Solitude, the Daily Planet offices, and other locations in the film, along with costume and character designs for David Corenswet's Superman, Rachel Brosnahan's Lois Lane, Nicholas Hoult's Lex Luthor, Nathan Fillion's Green Lantern, Isabela Merced's Hawkgirl, Anthony Carrigan's Metamorpho, Edi Gathegi's Mr. Terrific, and, of course, Krypto the Super Dog.

Superman: The Art and Making of the Film is the ultimate companion to the first epic big–screen entry in the DC Studios canon.

Globetrotters: Nellie Bly and Elizabeth Bisland's World Tour

A GRAPHIC NOVEL

- WRITTEN BY JULIAN VOLOJ; ILLUSTRATED BY JULIE ROCHELEAU

Intrepid reporters Nellie Bly and Elizabeth Bisland are pitted against the clock and each other in a madcap publicity stunt that the whole world is watching—read all about one of the first viral news stories reported on and starring two fearless female journalists in the race of their careers

Everyone knows about Jules Verne's Around the World in Eighty Days, but what about a real–life mad dash around the world in less than 80 days?

This is the challenge that journalist Nellie Bly tackles in 1889—her mission is to beat the famous fictional record set by Phileas Fogg, the main character of Jules Verne's famous novel. Whether or not the stunt is successful, it will mean big sales for the paper she writes for, the New York World. But as Bly sets off on her journey, competing newspaper Cosmopolitan sends another woman, Elizabeth Bisland, on the exact same journey, turning the publicity stunt into a competition that pits the two women against each other on the world stage.

Bly and Bisland are in a race against time, with sexism and prejudice to contend with to boot. A lively and gripping graphic novel recounting the real–life tale of one of the most famous publicity stunts ever attempted by two fearless female journalists!

POPULAR THEME: Witches and magic are perfect avatars to explore coming of age stories in both Japanese and Western comics. Fans of manga in the United States are especially receptive to this message, with popular anime and manga such as Kiki's Delivery Service, The Ancient Magus Bride, and Witch Hat Atelier having a huge and lasting presence in US pop culture.

INCREDIBLE ART: Yumeji's delicate inks bring the setting to life and are reminiscent of such classic titles as Hayao Miyazaki's Nausicaä or Kaoru Mori's A Bride's Story. TOPICAL SUBJECT: The element of man's conflict with nature is ever more relevant to young readers today, as we reevaluate our impact on the planet as a society. Although Eden of Witches is a fantasy, it doesn't shy away from asking what our relationship to nature and our impact on it is, grounding the series subtly despite its fantastical elements.

A GRAPHIC NOVEL

- WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY GABRIELA EPSTEIN

Spinning right out of the events of Danny Phantom: A Glitch in Time, New York Times bestselling author–illustrator Gabriela Epstein returns with another original action–packed graphic novel based on the hit Nickelodeon animated series, where Danny will have to reckon with past ghosts and past grudges

After the events of Danny Phantom: A Glitch in Time, Danny Phantom is public enemy number one, and Casper High School has revamped its curriculum as they believe that ghosts are once again a danger to the town. While Danny struggles to find a way to implement his new knowledge of what ghosts are to help them, Valerie Gray is thriving as the best ghost hunter at school. But when Wulf, Danny's old ghost friend, arrives looking for another ghost wolf cub, Danny and the gang must help track down this cub before their ghost hunting classmates get to it first. Can Danny help protect these ghosts before they get caught, or will his past grudge with Valerie result in his end?

This all–new original graphic novel from New York Times bestselling illustrator Gabriela Epstein continues the Danny Phantom story with this canon story that will satisfy both new and old fans of the Nickelodeon franchise.

Gabriela Epstein is a New York Times, Publishers Weekly, ABA, and USA Today bestselling cartoonist based in Austin, Texas. Originally from Philadelphia, she studied oil painting at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and later pursued a degree in illustration at the Rhode Island School of Design. After graduating, she worked as a character designer for 2D animation. She quickly transitioned into publishing, adapting two Baby–Sitters Club graphic novels for Scholastic Graphix, as well as cocreating and illustrating the award–winning bilingual graphic novel Invisible. Epstein is currently writing and illustrating the sequel to the graphic novel Danny Phantom: A Glitch in Time, the continuation of the television series for Abrams Books and Nickelodeon.

ARE YOU AFRAID OF THE DARK?#3

The Tale of the Vanishing Circus (Are You Afraid of the Dark? #3)

- BY KAYLA COTTINGHAM

Written by Kayla Cottingham and set in the world of Nickelodeon's hit TV show Are You Afraid of the Dark?, this spine–chilling third installment in the original middle–grade horror series takes us to Lake Gory, a small town where a mysterious circus appears once a year, where a young girl looking to have some fun gets more than she bargained for Thirteen–year–old perfectionist Riley Beasley doesn't have time for friends. She's too busy making her Ivy League dreams a reality. Her only "friend," Genevieve, is more of a persistent neighbor with an obsession for all things supernatural than actual confidante. But one night, Genevieve convinces Riley to sneak out and investigate the strange lights that have suddenly appeared in the surrounding woods.

They follow the lights to find a magnificent circus in a clearing. Tickets cannot be purchased; guests must be invited and accept the invitation.

Uncharacteristically, Riley finds herself immediately drawn to the carefree fun of the all–kids circus, where there are no adults to spoil the magic. She is particularly captivated by Miss Starr, the mysterious sixteen–year–old ringleader who always seems to be nearby.

Genevieve is the first to point out the strange aspects of the circus, the troupe, and Miss Starr. Why do all the kids have a ghostly appearance? How is it that they can perform impossible feats without getting hurt? Why is Miss Starr so intent on convincing Riley to join her circus? And why does one of the troupe members look so familiar?

Riley finds herself caught between Starr and her alluring circus and Genevieve's attempts to convince her that something is wrong. Will Riley solve the mystery unfolding in the circus tent before the final curtain falls? Or will she runaway with the circus forever?

Kayla Cottingham is a YA author and librarian. Her first book, My Dearest Darkest, was a New York Times and Publisher's Weekly bestseller. Originally from Salt Lake City, Cottingham lives in Boston where she loves to go hiking in the woods, play RPGs, and snuggle on the couch with her ridiculously large black cat, Squid.

New York Times best-selling author Robert Venditti (SUPERMAN '78, PLANET DEATH) joins forces with powerhouse artist Trevor Hairsine (DCEASED, X-MEN) and ten-time Eisner Award-winning colorist Dave Stewart (HELLBOY, STAR WARS) to deliver a brutal, no-holds-barred action crime comic that will leave you breathless.

Father Royston Craig became a priest late in life but he's determined to make up for lost time. Along with his regular duties at his St. Louis church, he also performs the prayers of the last rites to patients on their deathbeds at the nearby hospital.

One day, he's called to give these sacraments to Cormac Byrne, who doctors say won't last the night. Byrne, like many others, has turned to God only at the end; he hasn't been to church in decades. Father Roy is eager to hear his confession, but what starts as petty crime from a lifetime ago quickly becomes a horrifying litany of gangland violence and killings. Cormac Byrne is no ordinary man. He is, in fact, the head of the Irish mafia. God offers forgiveness to all who truly repent, and Father Roy completes his task by absolving Byrne of his mortal sins, leaving the man to die at peace...

...until the next morning. When Byrne makes a miraculous medical recovery. No longer at death's door, Byrne is quick to return to his old ways. It's business as usual and he's got loose ends to tie up. First things first: KILL THE PRIEST who now knows where all the bodies are buried.

But Father Roy's collar wasn't always white, and Byrne is going to learn the hard way that Father Royston Craig was once Chief Petty Officer Royston Craig, a former Navy SEAL who found his faith in the midst of battle. Now Father Roy must face vicious gangsters, corrupt cops, and his own inner demons if he is to survive. And while he will be forced to tap into a violent skill set he thought never to again entertain, the one thing Father Roy will not do... is kill.

Soon to be a major motion picture starring an A-list Oscar nominee!

A GROUNDBREAKING NEW PRESTIGE FORMAT EPIC

FROM BLOCKBUSTER SCREENWRITER and NYT BESTSELLING WRITER

DEREK KOLSTAD | ROBERT VENDITTI

(JOHN WICK, NOBODY) (SUPERMAN '78, GREEN LANTERN)

AND VISIONARY ARTIST

TOMÁS GIORELLO

(CONAN, STAR WARS)

BEST-SELLING FIRST ISSUE RUSHED BACK TO PRINT

The explosive 64-page first issue of the record-breaking series is presented in a high end, deluxe prestige format!

From the minds of blockbuster screenwriter Derek Kolstad — creator and writer of the box office dominating motion picture franchise JOHN WICK — and New York Times best-selling writer Robert Venditti (Superman '78, Green Lantern), along with artistic visionary Tomás Giorello (Star Wars, Conan) comes a groundbreaking new sci-fi epic.

Millions of miles from home, hundreds of ships descend into the stormy atmosphere of a hostile frozen world. On board, an army of resolute men and women brace for the coming assault.

They are an invasion force, on an impossible mission — destroy the devastating enemy weapon garrisoned below. Corporal Scott and his battalion are in the vanguard but the human forces are no match for their brutal alien adversaries. Scott's battalion is dead within moments. He is its lone survivor. The landing force annihilated, the battle is lost.

Against overwhelming odds, Scott dares the unthinkable — cross behind enemy lines, survive the lethal landscape, evade capture by ruthless enemies, resist natural predators, face human deserters and finish the mission singlehandedly. Locked in his suit of full combat battle armor, sustained only by what he can carry, and driven by Earth's wrath, Scott must do by himself what an entire army could not.

Destroy the weapon. Return home

AND VISIONARY ARTIST
TOMÁS GIORELLO
(CONAN)

MATT KINDT'S MINDBENDING SCI-FI BLOCKBUSTER

New York Times bestselling writer Matt Kindt (BRZRKR) and visionary artist Tomás Giorello (STAR WARS) tighten the noose in the next action-packed chapter of the heart-wrenching sci-fi event comic of the year.

He's running out of time! After years spent rewinding his life in a desperate bid to stop the impending apocalypse, Saver is grizzled, grey, and through playing hero. No matter how far back he jumps, the future always ends in flames. So he gives up trying, hiding out in the past to relive one perfect year with his wife, over and over again.

But when he finds out his wife is pregnant, everything changes. Now anchored in time by the birth of his daughter, Saver can only go back so far without erasing her from existence. With his daughter's future at stake, Saver launches one final mission: to take out the three people key to triggering the end of the world—an all-powerful witch, a ruthless dictator, and a kid cyber-prodigy. And this time, he has to get it right.

FASTER

by Jesse Lonergan

Who truly knows what a premier racer is thinking while behind the wheel, we can only imagine the lives that play out on the speedway. Join the motley cast of racers in Jesse Lonergan's, FASTER, a visually engrossing display of racing, and the people who can't help but race. Can perpetual runner up Molly Vox finally pull ahead of Kona Demille, the five-time world champion? Find out in FASTER!

"As a professional race car driver, I rarely see stories that capture the mental side of racing as well as the action—but Faster nails both. With its nostalgic hues, punchy layouts, and unexpected moments of heart, it's a love letter to both racing and comics. The storytelling is sharp, the visuals are pure motion, and every racer feels real—reminding me that everyone has a reason to run."

Meet Testament: the premier caretaker android for the future. Not only were they designed to care for the wellbeing of dozens of interstellar passengers; explorers, scientists, poets, and artists - they have also downloaded millennia of religious texts and liturgies to best serve the members of a religious commune that make up the bulk of their human charges. These members of the Order of the Abundant Grace of the Cosmic Christ, having already chosen a monastic and scholarly life, are ideal for their mission: a one-way voyage to discover all they can about a miraculous far-flung planet capable of life and, by choice, not repopulate.

Negative Superman, Clayface Superman, Mirror Batman, and Batman, son of Krypton—these were just a few of the madcap characters introduced in the pages of World's Finest Comics from 1961 to 1966. In addition to a host of woolly space creatures and supernatural beasts, Superman and Batman also tangled with old foes such as Bizarro, Brainiac, and Bat-Mite. The Joker and Lex Luthor even got together to form a corporation of evil. Truly, there was never a dull moment for the world's most popular superheroes of the Silver Age!

Across thousands of worlds, the dead have risen. These Black Lanterns, heroes and villains recruited from beyond the grave, have one purpose: to extinguish all light—and life—in the universe. Hal Jordan has overcome death once before. As the greatest Green Lantern to ever wield the emerald ring, it is Hal's unquestioned duty to lead the living against this overwhelming army of the dead. While Blackest Night consumes Earth's heroes, the seven Corps, empowered by the emotional spectrum, must end their war against each other—or bear witness to the end of all creation. As Earth becomes the ultimate battleground between the living and the dead, there is only one certainty: no one escapes death.

Dynamite's millionaire martial artist returns in this all-new action-packed reimagining from enlightened author FRED VAN LENTE (Die!namite) and ascended artist JONATHAN LAU (Space Ghost)!

As a child, Peter Cannon grew up in the secluded culture of "The Awakened," a isolated movement blending New Age psychology, Tibetan Buddhism, extreme fitness, and other esoteric disciplines. But when a mass suicide wiped out almost all of the Awakened's followers, an orphaned and abandoned Peter was left to find his own way in the world.

Now, years later, the last surviving member of a mysterious mystical order arrives in New York City on a mission of revenge. His target? The renegade master who destroyed his clan — Peter Cannon! But taking out the fabled Lightning Vessel of the Awakened is easier said than done — especially considering that Cannon's mind-and-body-perfected moves can collapse time and defy death itself!

Featuring harmoniously honed cover art by ROBERT QUINN, JONATHAN LAU, and DAVE ACOSTA, each issue of Peter Cannon Thunderbolt will also include a special Icon cover from master painter ALEX ROSS!

When Elvira first met Harley Quinn, the Mistress of the Dark was desperate for any plan that could help her save her beloved TV show after it was threatened with cancellation by heartless corporate raiders. Well, the Clown Princess of Crime came up with a plan, all right, and now Elvira is along for the ride — no matter how crazy Harley's scheme turns out to be!

Putting together the biggest Halloween block party ever staged is a great idea in theory, but pulling it off means raising a massive amount of money — and a pile of cash that big is sure to draw the attention of every thug and delinquent in the Tri-State area. If Harley and Elvira want to keep their party funds secure, they're going to have to become too big to fail — and that means going international!

Famed Harley Quinn Whisperers AMANDA CONNER and JIMMY PALMIOTTI double down on the year's most hotly anticipated crossover in Harley Quinn X Elvira #2, with Conner providing two captivating covers as well as several story pages to accompany artist JUAN SAMU's interiors — all capped off by indecently alluring covers from JOSEPH MICHAEL LINSNER, CHAD HARDIN, and BEN CALDWELL!

The Winchester brothers return for their second all-new adventure along the backroads of America's heartland!

Hunting monsters is a rewarding calling, but it doesn't exactly pay well (or, really, at all). Sam and Dean are just about broke when Dean hits on the idea of raising funds the old-fashioned way — by gambling what little cash they have at a casino.

After settling in to see if his brother can manage to lose gracefully, Sam makes a new friend at the bar. Strangely enough, this sympathetic siren seems to have an uncanny ability to change the brothers' fortunes for the better — or possibly for the very worst!

Comic book sharks GREG PAK and EDER MESSIAS go all in on Supernatural #2, with cover art by CLAYTON CRAIN, DAVID COUSENS, EDER MESSIAS, and a special cast PHOTO cover all added to sweeten the pot!

In Skynet's dark future, not every human who loses a battle against the machines is killed outright. Some who are undamaged enough to work are sent to labor camps to help their robotic oppressors reclaim the salvageable material from their mechanical casualties.

Among the inmates of these camps, there are rumors of a sanctuary — a fortified redoubt somewhere in the wastelands, where the Hunter-Killers and Terminators cannot approach without being destroyed. Within this fortress, the Resistance is gathering its strength and organizing the plan for its final victory. Now, one new prisoner claims to know how to get there. All they have to do is escape — and how hard could that be?

Inspired co-authors DECLAN SHALVEY and RORY MCCONVILLE are joined on this second issue of The Terminator: Metal by special guest artist EOIN MARRON for a harrowing new tale set at the brutal heart of the War Against the Machines — featuring ruthlessly efficient covers by SHALVEY, BOB LAYTON, SEBASTIAN PIRIZ, and PAOLO ANTIGA!

Welcome back to Sunset City — where the boys crave brains and the girls are pretty!

Having blown off a meeting with world-weary private investigator Vampirella, the fortified city's iron-fisted ruler Purgatori now summons the Daughter of Drakulon to translate for a visitor who's just crashed her saucer on the outskirts of town. Vampi doesn't speak Martian, but the telepathic Dejah Thoris is quick to pick up the local tongue — and the news she brings is a bombshell. If Dejah's story checks out, the cure to the all-male zombie plague is within Puragori's grasp — she just needs to motivate Vampirella to hand it over after she finds it!

Sure, the universe is pretty big, and it's got a lot of things to see — but why limit yourself to just one universe if you don't have to? That's the question that Dr. Jumba poses to Agent Pleakley when he reveals his latest (somewhat) evil invention — the wormhole punch!

Capable of piercing the fabric of reality itself, this diabolical device (that looks an awful lot like a fishing rod) is clearly too dangerous a contraption to be allowed to fall into the wrong hands — like, for example, the blue, furry hands of a certain biological experiment who has recently learned how to fish. Not worry, though — we're sure that Jumba and Pleakley will be able to reel Stitch in before the spacetime continuum is completely compromised!

The infinitely recurring creative team of CONNOR RATLIFF, JAMES III, and GRETA XELLA continue bending the laws of physics in Stitch #4 — featuring gravitationally attractive covers from EDWIN GALMON, JAE LEE & JUNE CHUNG, CIRO CANGIALOSI, and GEORGE KAMBADAIS!

TALES OF PARANOIA

By R. Crumb

The seminal cartoonist who single-handedly invented the alternative comics format of the one-person anthology in 1967 with ZAP returns at age 81, still raging at the world and himself, still drawing like a master, and still funny... mostly. In his latest comics excursion, Crumb dives down internet and newspaper rabbit-holes, and comes up asking questions. Why don't we know the real background of deep state careerists? And is Crumb himself just as paranoid as everyone else tells him he is? Or is that just what THEY want you to think?

Mixing memoir, essay, polemic, neurosis, and conspiracy across 12 short comics — including the final Dirty Laundry story, drawn by Crumb with a script written with Aline Kominsky-Crumb before her death in 2022 — Tales Of Paranoia shows there's still plenty of life in both the artist and the classic underground comics format.

LOST MARVELS NO. 3

SAVAGE TALES OF THE 1980S

By Archie Goodwin, Michael Golden, John Severin, John Buscema et al.

The latest volume in Fantagraphics' Lost Marvels series, collecting all eight issues of the long-out-of-print, tough-minded 1980s run of Savage Tales, will hit you like a punch in the face.

For 13 months in the mid-1980s, Marvel assembled some of its strongest artists and writers to tell gritty, harrowing, and blackly humorous adventure stories ranging from gangster noir to historical battlefields to the deadly old West to post-apocalyptic futures. Unseen for nearly 40 years, here is some of the most shocking work of artists John Severin, John Buscema, Sam Glanzman, Val Mayerik, Ron Wagner, Gray Morrow, Wayne Vansant, Herb Trimpe, Michael Golden, Joe Jusko, Mary Wilshire, Arthur Suydam, Will Jungkuntz, Vincent Waller, and Ken Steacy, and writers Chuck Dixon, Bill Wray, Don Kraar, Robert Kanigher, Denny O'Neil, Doug Murray, and Archie Goodwin. Stories include Severin and Dixon's "By Rail to Vladivostock," Murray and Golden's "The Nam, 1967," Glanzman's "Of War and Peace: The Trinity," Jungkuntz's Blood & Gutz series, and Trimpe's Skywarriors series. With a remembrance by Savage Tales editor Larry Hama.

Savage Tales of the 1980s reprints all 8 issues of the magazine's run, the first time they have seen print since 1986 — nearly 40 years ago! They are reproduced in facsimile format, including color covers.

TURN LOOSE OUR DEATH RAYS AND KILL THEM ALL!

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF FLETCHER HANKS

Edited by Paul Karasik

A gigantic compendium that collects the complete stories written and drawn by the 1940s outsider superhero artist Fletcher Hanks.

Fletcher Hanks was arguably the first great comic book auteur: He wrote, penciled, inked, and lettered all his own stories — an unprecedented solo act in the 1940s comic book industry. Between 1939 and 1941 he created nearly 50 comics stories, all unified by a uniquely artistic vision — primitive, bizarre, and singularly idiosyncratic. Whether it's the superhero Stardust doling out ice cold slabs of poetic justice, or the jungle protectress Fantomah tearing evildoers from limb to ragged limb, contemporary readers will be stunned by the pop surrealism and unfiltered violent mayhem of Hanks' work. This new paperback edition brings back into print all of Hanks' previously published material and is the most complete collection of his work.

DOGTANGLE

By Max Huffman

A satirical comedy about an ambitious power couple in a bleak corporate landscape who defy God and nature to create a modern Cerberus for their time.

Dogtangle opens with a town hall meeting in a Taco Bell nestled in the bland corporate environment of Business Park. A man, bleating to anyone who will listen about the evils of current zoning laws, meets a woman who works in pharmaceutical marketing. They begin a relationship. They get married. From their union springs the idea of the Hypermutt: a many-headed mass of dogs that absorbs each new dog it encounters.

This debut graphic novel from Chicago cartoonist Max Huffman, about an awful power couple who defy God and nature in creating a hound of hell for our times, is at turns a rich satirical fable, a white-collar black comedy, and a stylistic tour de force blending elements of abstraction, cubism, mid-century modernism, and visual sight gags. One of the most visually distinctive and funny graphic novels in recent memory, Dogtangle is also underpinned with a deep mistrust of corporate and cultural hegemony, cementing its relevance in our increasingly oligarchal times.

COMFORTLESS

By Miguel Vila

Miguel Vila magnifies the petty and morbid narrowness of the human soul with a precision to rival storytellers such as Mike Leigh, Andrey Zvyagintsev, or Michael Haneke.

"This book makes no claims to scientific validity and is in no way intended for informational purposes." So declares Miguel Vila in the outset of his new graphic novel, Comfortless, a taxonomy of the masks with which we pretend to live, executed with the precision of a master sociologist. It collects a kaleidoscope of weaving character studies, united by the ways vanity, jealousy, and selfishness manifest via fear, vice, and lust. Giorgia ends her relationship with Eva because she thinks her fling with Nic has resulted in her pregnancy. Nic has a secret to reveal to Daniele, but he can't express it. Stella meets Daniele and tells him about the strange events they have experienced in recent years. Simone attends a New Year's Eve party knowing that he is positive for Covid.

Set in the Venetian province of Italy, the themes Vila addresses are global. Comfortless is a catastrophic fresco of a humanity adrift, where fears and selfishness draw a merciless map of the emptiness of our times.

SHADOWS OF THE SEA

By Cathy Malkasian

Told through powerful allegory, Shadows of the Sea is a story about grief and the winding path to healing, with help from friends, loved ones, and a little magic.

On the lonely road meet two outcasts — Doris, a small but spitfire woman and Stanwick, a shy and sensitive dog. Each of this unlikely pair harbors grief and must decide whether to stay with the pain or run from it. On their journey, the two travel through lush forests, to the eerily abandoned town of echoes, clear to the "mudder" sea, where they finally confront the unbearable trauma of their pasts.

Cartoonist Cathy Malkasian's graphic novels are known to be crafted with layered, affecting allegory and metaphor, and Shadows of the Sea is no exception. In this story, shadows become characters themselves, weighed down with painful truth. They cannot be released until their owners acknowledge, reflect, and heal. Charged by the magic of the "mudder" sea, the shadows reveal the loss Doris and Stanwick have been carrying — a husband and a child — and sets them free at last.

LOVERS AND HATERS: A LOVE AND ROCKETS BOOK

By Gilbert Hernandez

In the next chapter of the Palomar saga, actress Fritz contends with a sex cult, mad scientists, and her inner demons.

The first story collection in Gilbert Hernandez's Palomar saga to take place after the events of 2010's High Soft Lisp is torn from the pages of Love and Rockets: New Stories, Love and Rockets Vol. IV, and Psychodrama Illustrated—and expanded with 14 new pages! In Lovers and Haters, 50-year-old cult movie actress Fritz, in addition to her alcoholism and the ups and downs of her career, must also contend with a controlling lover, Danny; a jealous rival, Mila; a score of younger Fritz imitators, a sex cult; and mad scientists. Also in her orbit is her niece, Killer (sometimes literally, as seen in a Doctor Who-inspired TV show), a teen actress trying to launch a singing career while solving math problems. The specter of Fritz's mother, Maria—also a cult movie actress—haunts them all with her beauty from beyond the grave.

With a sprawling cast, Lovers and Haters is about mothers and daughters, aunts and nieces, complex and often toxic relationships, artists and exploiters, personas and obsessions. It reads like an X-rated The Substance mixed with Mommy Dearest and Performance, with an added dash of giallo.

THE CLOVEN BOOK THREE

Written by Garth Stein
Drawn by Matthew Southworth

From the #1 NYT bestselling author of The Art of Racing in the Rain and co-creator of the fan favorite Stumptown comics series comes the third book in the action-packed coming of age series about a human/goat hybrid lost in the world.

In The Cloven: Book Three, our hero, Tuck, the most successful Cloven ever created, is discovered frozen solid in a mountain river. Reanimated by the medicinal mushrooms of The Healer, a legendary member of the Feral Herd of Cloven, Tuck easily integrates with his half-brothers and sisters with the help of Willie, a human "stray" who lives with the Herd. Tuck finds himself on the verge of taking over the Herd and leading them out of the shadows of the mountain mines and into daylight, until he sees a People magazine cover in a mini mart with a photo of a very pregnant Stella Goff, and a headline: "But Who's the Daddy?" Tuck knows all too well who's the daddy, and he now must leave his Feral friends to track down the daughter of the richest man in the world...

Moody and mysterious and atmospheric as a fever dream, The Cloven is a raucous, funny, and dynamic sci-fi graphic novel series about James "Tuck" Tucker, a genetically modified human organism known as a Cloven, written by Garth Stein (The Art of Racing in the Rain) and drawn by Matthew Southworth (co-creator of the graphic novel series Stumptown), two of today's bestselling and critically acclaimed storytellers.

PRINCE VALIANT VOLS. 19–21 GIFT BOX SET

By Hal Foster, John Cullen Murphy

Our series of special slipcased gift sets of the most visually opulent comic strip in the medium's history, based on the King Arthur mythos, continues with Vols. 19-21 (1973-1978).

In Vol. 19, Prince Valiant is sent to defend the borders against invading barbarians, but it is young Arn who takes center stage as he travels to his homeland and loses his heart to Lydia, daughter of Haakon. In Vol. 20, Aleta defeats a wizard, then Aleta's younger sister Helene is gambled away by her husband to a Corsair mercenary, drawing Val and his Singing Sword into a deadly duel. In Vol. 21, it's election time for the King of Minstrels. Arn and Court Jester Sir Dinadan travel to France to set things right, while Val accompanies the headstrong Gunther of Germany on his quest to recover stolen holy relics and claim a wife in Jerusalem. The mercenary army of a Persian warlord sweeps across the Middle East, forcing Queen Aleta to seek refuge in a hidden utopian city ruled by women. Val competes in tournaments in Marseille and Camelot and reunites with Sir Lancelot, but a tragic death impacts a member of Val's family. Also in this set: Hal Foster's complete comic-strip adaptation of Franz Werfel's "The Song of Bernadette" and beautiful color illustrations for the 1930-31 Lucky Bag Naval yearbooks. ROY KUHLMAN: RELUCTANT MODERNIST

By Steven Brower
Foreword by Steven Heller

$45.00 | SC | 312 pgs | Full Color | 9″ × 12″

ISBN 978-1-68396-548-0

The first ever collection of the groundbreaking design of Grove Press designer Roy Kuhlman.

The legacy of Grove Press is well known within literary circles - how Barney Rosset bought a fledgling but failing publishing company in the early 1950s and changed the world of letters in America, and perhaps the very culture as well; Grove Press brought to national prominence the writers, art, and artists of the avant-garde. Equally innovative, and ultimately as influential, Grove Press book covers reflected not only the work inside, but also the prevailing zeitgeist. The iconoclastic writing was echoed in the packaging, a marriage of imagery and the written word that had not been seen before, or, perhaps, since.

The covers, the work of a young artist named Roy Kuhlman, who arrived on Grove's doorstep in 1951, contributed invaluably to the company's image as a distinguished and innovative publishing house.

Work from all of Kuhlman's oeuvre is included in this handsome volume, over 300 in all, with an emphasis on the Grove covers. To date, the public has seen little of Kuhlmans's total creative output. It is all assembled here for the first time, displaying depth, variety, and innovation. It is at once illustrative, abstract, conceptual, comical, serious and revolutionary. This book is a celebration of and a tribute to this important designer's creative métier.

SAILING ALONE AROUND THE WORLD

Written by Joshua Slocum
Drawn by Jon Buller

$30.00 | HC | 160 pgs | Black & White | 6.5″ × 8.75″

ISBN 979-8-8750-0183-3

Sailing Alone Around the World is cartoonist Jon Buller's adaptation of Joshua Slocum's eponymous memoir. In April of 1895, Captain Slocum took off from Boston aboard a 36-foot wooden sloop that he renovated himself and proceeded to sail around the world — a three-year voyage of more than 46,000 miles! — becoming the first person to single-handedly circle the globe. Upon his return, he wrote a memoir of his voyage recounting his adventures — hair-raising encounters with pirates off Gibraltar, raging tempests and treacherous coral reefs — which is brought to vivid graphic life by cartoonist Jon Buller.

MY YEAR IN VIETNAM

Written by George Ryan
Drawn by Eve Gilbert

$30.00 | SC | 136 pgs | Full Color | 8″ × 10″

ISBN 979-8-87500-013-3

The myth of Pax Americana is revealed in Vietnam vet George Ryan's harrowing story, illustrated by Eve Gilbert.

Plucked from his workaday youth as an Irish-American kid from Brooklyn, Ryan's military deployment to Vietnam begins in 1966 with shiftless excursions into women, booze, and reefer. As he wades ever deeper north, his cavorting is replaced by an unceasing violence. The amorality of war, and specifically this war, is laid bare. Eve Gilbert's nakedly primitive drawing perfectly reflects Ryan's own naivete, filled to the brim with acerbic commentary and pitch-black humor. Images overflow with blood and dissidence, dripping with rage for the injustice done to the young men made grist for the war machine.

Ultimately, My Year in Vietnam is a story of triumph and humanity, of men rising against their country's worst impulses. Ryan's greatest act of resistance becomes his life, proving that the men who fought these wars can be more than weapons and fodder, but activists and paragons and fathers and grandfathers; thinking, feeling, beating hearts.

THE ETERNAUT

Written by Héctor Germán Oesterheld; Drawn by Francisco Solano López

Now a TV series available on Netflix — the seminal Argentine science fiction graphic novel whose main character is still viewed as a symbol of resistance in Latin America.

WINNER 2016 Eisner Award for Best Archival Collection/Project—Strips

A gathering of neighbors in suburban Buenos Aires is interrupted by an eerie, phosphorescent snowfall. When those outside exposed to the "snow" start dropping dead, it becomes clear that the harmless looking "snow" reflects the vanguard of an alien invasion, and a story of survival, cunning, and armed struggle against them unfurls. Written by the Argentine author Héctor Germán Oesterheld — who opposed the military junta in the late '70s, and was disappeared, along with his daughters, in 1977 — and drawn by Francisco Solano López in an appropriately pulpy, representational style. The story, originally serialized from 1957 to 1959, holds a mirror to Argentine politics, reflecting an era of paranoia, military juntas, and Cold War geopolitics. Encounter the gripping tale that remains a symbol of resistance in Latin America to this day.

DIE: LOADED #1

STAFFORD, EARTH.
So, we've been back for a year.
After two years, we escape a hell dimension to find ourselves trapped inside by a pandemic.
Which could be ironic, but with what we know about the amoral god that lurks outside time and space, feels more like trolling.
"Hey, Ash—we were discussing what escapism was for. Have another year to chew it over."
Thanks, Die, fuck off forever.
And I have a two-year-old.
He didn't trust the weird stranger at first...
..."You and me, kid. You and me."

Hey, Ash...
Don't you dare wake him, motherfucker.
Babysitter is paid. We are going out.
Well, Sophie, don't you wake him up with the "motherfuckers"!
The real horror: how little time I've had to do anything about my gender bullshit.
And the weirdest thing?
Being called "Daddy" just seems to take priority.
Everything is a role for me. Right now, I play it and play it as well as I can.
Another distraction from doing anything else?
Guilt.

When I was away, Sophie was here, single parenting. I've spent so long being petrified for her in retrospect.
It was all in that first moment: Sophie dragging me in to see Stuart before I could say anything, so eager she was to share it.
"Look what my body did, after everything."
Then she asked me where the fuck I went.
I wanted to tell her about Die. I didn't.
We'd all already decided we wouldn't—the fear of infecting people was still there.
It was only later I had a chance to tell her about my aforementioned gender bullshit.
She listened. We talked. We talked some more. Eventually, she just asked...
"So what do you want to do?"
And I said...
"Oh, I wish I fucking knew."
We don't have to go.
We're going. Besides, this is... perfect.
She means "perfectly horrific."
It's our first solo night out since COVID, since you being kidnapped again, since Stuart coming...
...and we're going to a funeral.

Strictly speaking, it's not.
It's a memorial service, delayed until now thanks to lockdowns.
Chuck's funeral was a year and a half ago...
...six months before we got back.
When his body turned up.

DIE: THE ROLEPLAYING GAME, QUICKSTART EDITION

This is a quickstart for the DIE RPG. If you want the full thing, it's available directly from Rowan, Rook & Decard (WWW.RRDGAMES.COM/DIE), and your local gaming and comic shops.

If you're coming to RPGs entirely cold, we strongly recommending watching games folks have recorded online ("actual plays"). Any game will at least give you the basics, but watching a game of DIE RPG will be much more specific.

The scenario in this quickstart will take 2–3 sessions of 3–4 hours to play. If you have to fit it into one session set strict time limits on Persona generation and encounters, and be ready to skip some encounters (C and D are good candidates).

WHAT IS DIE?

DIE is a comic book series by Kieron Gillen and Stephanie Hans, where a group of deeply flawed adults are transported to a fantasy world via a predatory, sinister roleplaying game. There, they're transformed into Paragons, each of whom is a warped take on a core fantasy roleplaying class. In this world, they get to confront how their lives have diverted from their youthful fantasies, to confront their darker sides and buried secrets. They generally cause trouble.

It's been jokingly described as "Goth Jumanji." It is a portal fantasy for adults and is available from all good book shops.

WHAT DOES DIE RPG LET YOU DO?

In this game, you make your own entirely bespoke version of the DIE story. You make your own social group of messed up, real-world humans. They're dragged to a world which echoes their own strengths and weaknesses, failures, losses and successes back at them. It is their fantasy world, personal and horrifically theirs.

Each of these visitors is transformed into their own unique versions of the iconic Paragons of the series:

D4 Dictators break hearts with words, in a blood-fountaining-out-of-people's-mouths way.

D6 Fools rush in with a smile on their face, knowing if it slips, they'll be torn apart.

D8 Emotion Knights know if they feel their passion strong enough—fear, hate, loathing, whatever they choose—they can decapitate gods.

D10 Godbinders haggle with and bully the divine to get their miracles done, cheap.

D12 A Neo sneaks into a Prussian dragon's lair to steal Fair Gold that will power up their techno-weaponry enough to kill the bastard thing.

D20 Masters shuffle reality, knowing if their cheating gets caught they'll have to suffer torment for breaking the rules.

In the end, a decision: do the visitors go back to their real lives? And if they disagree, how will they come to an agreement? Can they settle things like grown-ups, or are swords and spells going to settle this? Because the dead don't get a vote…

Will the game continue, or will the game end? You and your friends decide.

You can add your D6 to your dice pool any time you're acting in a foolish, daring or cavalier fashion. In any dice pool which includes the Fool's D6, you gain:
Special: roll another D6 and add it to the present dice pool.

Always look on the bright side of life, as the song goes. It's true.

If a Fool's laughing, you'll get out of this hell alive. If you get a laugh, your enemies won't be laughing for much longer. Don't take things too seriously, and it won't get too serious. At least, for the Fool.

The Fool's the swashbuckler, a romantic rogue, the life and soul of the adventuring party. The rest think they're irresponsible, but the Fool's abilities mean the only responsible thing to do is be irresponsible. Screw everyone else if they can't take a joke.

Fools rush in… and their friends have to deal with the consequences.

STORY RICK REMENDER, KIERON DWYER, & HARPER JATEN

ART KIERON DWYER, RICK REMENDER, & HARPER JATEN

ADVANCE SOLICIT

Limited edition to one printing only!

After decades in comic-book exile, the absurd skatepunk cult classic Black Heart Billy returns, celebrating 25 gloriously questionable years of terrible choices, filthy living, and a long-forgotten punk-rock ideology all wrapped up in the last thing it deserves, a fancy hardcover.

Meet Billy Black: skate-punk misfit with a robotic head, a bottomless supply of sarcastic contempt for society, and terrible impulse control. His life is a never-ending quest for fun, punk rock debauchery, and skating abandoned pools-- until a deranged Nazi scientist decides to bring Adolf Hitler back inside the reanimated corpse of Jerry Garcia. Now, San Francisco is rapidly descending into a fascist hippie nightmare and only Billy, armed with snide disdain, a baseball bat, and reckless disregard for personal safety, can defeat this self-righteous, patchouli soaked, moral authority.

Created by the dynamic duo of Rick Remender (Grommets, The Scumbag) and Kieron Dwyer (Sea Of Red, Captain America), Black Heart Billy is a joyful mash-up of comic absurdity, irreverent satire, and non-stop anarchic action.

This stylish hardcover collects the entire original run in original black & white, plus a treasure trove of previously unseen goodies and a new afterword that Remender probably wrote in a nostalgic delirium.

ART / COVER JED DOUGHERTY

"Free Planet demands to be read in a comfy chair, next to a fire, or the window of a starship, while taking in a distant supernova." —Robert Kirkman (The Walking Dead, Invincible)

The epic worldbuilding of Dune meets the romance and drama of Saga in this complex, action-packed space opera about the first completely free planet in human history.

In the wake of a grueling war of independence, a team of revolutionary heroes is tasked with defending their home and its uniquely potent energy source from multiple intergalactic superpowers intent on domination. But though they are each deeply committed to the dream of a free planet, they all have completely different ideas about what complete freedom actually entails. Faced with separatist movements, counterrevolutionaries, political deadlock, famine, equipment shortages, a looming trade war, violent attacks and wildly divergent ideas of how to handle each, can true freedom endure?

Informed by real-world research and extensive design work, Aubrey Sitterson (The Comic Book Story of Professional Wrestling, No One Left to Fight) and Jed Dougherty (Savage Hearts, Worlds' Finest) have created a comic that functions as both literature and art object, a rumination on freedom, the sacrifices it demands, the discipline it requires and the authority that must arise in its absence.

There is a world of magic, myth, and monsters that exists beneath the surface of our own.

In Lost Fantasy, a magical world lies beneath ours, and first contact was made over a hundred years ago between the two worlds due to a natural disaster, resulting in a schism that allowed monsters to break through. Since then, secret monster slayers, known as The Great Hunters, have been working with global leaders to police the border and to keep our world safe from the creatures that lurk in the shadows. But last night, something broke through, resulting in a mysterious mass killing in Montana, and causing things to shift in a way that will ripple through both worlds. NEW YORK'S DESTINY IS WRITTEN IN ITS DEPTHS...

Alison Walker is a promising young painter in Manhattan. But she has a secret. She's also a witch. She and her family belong to the world of Under York, a mysterious, underground New York where five powerful clans of witches have reigned for centuries. These families with their strict codes of life, drawn from the country's main communities (African, Irish, Chinese, Mexican, and Amerindian) practice magic as powerful as it is dangerous. For generations, they have been hunted and persecuted. Today, they secretly influence life on the surface and its inhabitants. Their revenge is to participate in the destiny of a world that banished them. This is the universe in which Alison Walker grew up. The universe she fled and doesn't want to hear about anymore. Until fate catches up with her...

Acclaimed French writer Sylvain Runberg (Watchdogs, Warship: Jolly Roger) and superstar Harvey Award winner Mirka Andolfo deliver a fascinating tale where urban fantasy takes root in the bowels of the world's most famous city. Two universes—that of contemporary New York and its dynamism and modernity and that of the secret, underground magical clans of Under York—collide in the destiny of a young witch on the run.

"Ríos pits a group of teens against a changed world in a bid to survive in this stunningly rendered postapocalyptic eco-horror graphic novel." — Publishers Weekly (starred review)

A gorgeous and brutal story that revolts against the notion of violence as the only response to a life without hope.

The Sea, secretly more complex than anyone imagined, rises one day. The horizon folds as the Sea absorbs the world and transforms everything that's been pulled inside it. Three kids find themselves unmoored and lost, but brought together by the physical and mental changes wrought by the tides and a desire to avoid harming any living creature.

FLASH GORDON HC VOL. 1 — ART PREVIEW

LETTERS

FROM THE CREATIVE TEAM

"On Not Saving the Universe"

I love writing. I love science fiction, and more to the point, I love writing science fiction, especially if it falls within the confines of the pulpy adventure stories I've been immersed in since my youth.

I was pitching a few projects to Mad Cave when they mentioned they had some licensed IP that I might be interested in. EIC Mike Marts (coolest guy you can know) started rattling off a bunch of titles, and when he got to "Flash Gordon," my mind instantly filled in the classic Queen line from the 80s film version with "Ahaaahhhhh saves every one of us!"

"I'll do that!" I blurted out.

And the rest…well…is what you see here.

I dove into the original, amazingly rendered, and imagination-filled comic strips of the great Alex Raymond. And although I love the Mike Hodges, tongue-in-cheek film of the 80s, the comic strip was where my Flash lived—a square-jawed everyman who is athletically inclined and smart as a whip. I didn't want to REBOOT the franchise. I felt that the franchise has lasted this long because of what had been. How could I possibly improve upon that?

So, I thought I'd just continue the series as if it hadn't stopped. Sure, I'd lay in some of my own modern-day sensibilities, but Flash was still Flash, Ming was still Ming, etc. All wonderfully drawn by the amazing Will Conrad…

The only REAL change was the destruction of Mongo, the result of some conversations about not wanting to use the name of the planet. That lead to the explosion…the parts of Mongo being scattered to the stars...and a wonderful jumping-on point to rediscover the glorious world of Flash Gordon anew!

So, if you've never met Flash, then buckle in – because FLASH GORDON is a non-stop adventure through strange worlds with even stranger creatures that will hopefully leave you with a smile on your face and the need for another issue as fast as my little ole fingers can type it!

-Jeremy Adams

So here I was, finishing up an assignment and looking into my schedule for next projects, when I got a message from Mike Marts, with whom I've worked before, asking me if I would like to work on something with Mad Cave. He's a great guy to work with, so I asked about the possible projects, and among the ones he mentioned was FLASH GORDON—and that was it. I said yes immediately, especially when he said it was being written by Jeremy, with whom I've also worked before and had a great time.

I was always a fan of sci-fi. More than that: I was always a fan of Flash Gordon. I loved the characters, and Alex Raymond's art was a huge inspiration to me. I was so honored to follow in his steps. And at the same time, to me that was the most challenging and most rewarding experience—bringing the classic elements of Flash Gordon while transporting the character and his universe to the present. To be able to give something to the old and new audience. It was a great feeling, and I hope that we succeeded in honoring this tremendous legacy.

-Will Conrad

Flash Gordon has always been in the periphery of everything I love in comics and media, inspiring so many comic and movie characters and stories I've always enjoyed. His DNA is all over all of it. And he also, of course, exists with one of my favorite characters ever in a shared universe with the Phantom. So when the opportunity to work on Flash came up, how could I say no. It's the opportunity to do something fresh, but also familiar. And with the amazing team we have here, I get to do space, fantasy, superheroes and swashbucklers all in one book. Flash Gordon is truly the gift that keeps on giving. I've been giving this book my all, and I hope it shows and the readers love and appreciate it!

Athens, 399 BC. In what may be remembered as the first trial for crimes of opinion, Socrates is sentenced to death. Accused of corrupting youth with atheistic doctrines, the philosopher's line of defense is uncompromising and defiant. He is thus sentenced to drink hemlock by an even larger majority of jurors, and once in prison, awaiting execution, he refuses to flee lest he violate those laws to which he has always been devoted. Socrates was not only one of the best known and most influential philosophers in human history, but also the first martyr for his own ideas. His trial tells how the greatest democracy of the time could have sentenced the best of its citizens to death.

SINS OF THE PAST DON'T STAY BURIED . . . THEY ALWAYS FIND A WAY OF RISING FROM THE GRAVE! From Eisner Award–nominated writer and master storyteller Rodney Barnes (Batman: Full Moon, Killadelphia) and phenomenal artist Elia Bonetti (Death of Wolverine: The Logan Legacy), enter a century-spanning tale of suspense and sorrow as true crime meets shocking terror inside an infamous asylum with a tortured past in this double-sized, 48-page debut . . .

Founded at the turn of the 20th century outside of Annapolis, Maryland, the Crownsville Hospital was a notoriously segregated, all-Black psychiatric institute. After decades of overcrowding and neglect—alongside darker, more-persistent rumors of patient abuse and illegal medical experiments—it was finally closed. Today, it stands condemned—a crumbling testament to a legacy of all-too-real terror inflicted on a marginalized and vulnerable community.

But even as a ruin of its former self, Crownsville still casts a long shadow. . . . When an unexplained death inside the abandoned hospital is ruled a suicide, Annapolis police detective Mike Simms and journalist Paul Blairare are compelled to dig deeper, only to discover the reality of the horrors that once took place there . . . and the powerful connection they share to the anguished spirits of the dead that are still locked within its walls.

LIMITED SERIES		IN STORES NOVEMBER 12

Inspired by firsthand accounts of paranormal encounters, Oni Press' startling five-part experiment in comic book storytelling continues with an enthralling new 40-page chapter from SpectreVision co-founder and real-life experiencer Daniel Noah, acclaimed writer Zac Thompson (Cemetery Kids Run Rabid), and fast-rising star Noah Bailey (Station Grand, Double Walker) diving headlong into the dimly lit borderlands of human experience, where overlapping phenomena like UFOs, hauntings, and inexplicable synchronicities indicate a higher, unseen order of reality . . .

A prison-transfer bus has just crashed on an isolated forest road in Washington state in the deep winter, sending the lone survivor, inmate Elwood Krieger, running into the woods. When he encounters and fights off a mysterious creature, he finds he's accidentally killed a juvenile Sasquatch. Barely escaping the wrath of its grieving mother, Krieger starts a new, secret life in a nearby community, hoping to stay under the radar of the law. But when the mother discovers him and the woman loves, Krieger is faced with much harder decisions than fight or flight . . .

Plus: The next extra-sized, ad-free, prestige-format installment of HIGH STRANGENESS also includes an all-new nonfiction essay charting the ever-evolving history of the Sasquatch phenomenon by researcher and podcast host Jim Perry (Euphomet).

WILL THIS HOLIDAY BE OUR LAST?! Rising stars George Northy (EC's Shiver SuspenStories) and Rachele Aragno (Leonide the Vampire) unleash the next epic chapter of this soon-to-be-classic Christmastime adventure in a double-sized, 40-page package!

In the festive town of Christmas, PA, life is like a holiday feast all year round: decorations, lights, shopping, and all the trimmings! Until the facade is shattered by the accidental awakening of the sinister Christmas Witch—Perchta—who has an axe to grind against the world that imprisoned and forgot her!

And she's not alone! With the help of the vicious Yule Cat and the mischievous Yule Lads, the dark spirits of the winter holiday are set to wreak havoc on this otherwise idyllic town and beyond, and the only ones who can stop them are the group of misfit teens that accidentally released her in the first place—joined by the elven warrior Erligur, who's battled these baddies before. This unlikely alliance of youthful heroes must stop Perchta and her brood from casting their darkness across the land!

There are bombshells . . . and then there is THIS issue! The entire SKIN POLICE saga has led to this world-shaking turning point!

Secrets explode and loyalties shatter as Agent Eckis of the Duplicate Identification and Capture Division—aka the Skin Police—finally comes face-to-face with the one man he's been hunting since day one: Noxxon, the enigmatic leader of the Dupe Resistance.

After months of brutal clashes between Skin Police and Dupe resistance forces—and with nothing but clone corpses and contradictions to show for it—Eckis has had enough. Disillusioned by dead-end intel and the shifting agenda of his superiors, he agrees to an off-the-grid meeting with Noxxon. The truth they uncover will rewrite everything Eckis believes about the Dupe program, the Skin Police, and his own existence.

Jordan Thomas (Mugshots) and Daniel Gete (Biker Mice from Mars) rip the curtain back on the darkest corners of identity, rebellion, and control in the issue that changes everything. And trust us—[redacted] is one hell of a doozy!

IN ONE L.A. MOTEL ROOM, A COSMIC QUEST IS ABOUT TO BEGIN . . .

More than just a writer, more than just a science-fiction icon, Benjamin J. Carp was a cultural revolutionary. Over the course of 44 novels and hundreds of short stories—including the counterculture classic The Man They Couldn't Erase—Carp pushed the boundaries of literary respectability for the sci-fi genre and his readers' perception of reality itself . . . until decades of amphetamine abuse and Southern California excess finally ended a mind-bending career that always just escaped mainstream success. He died in 1982.

Until 2025 . . . when Benjamin J. Carp awakens, alive, in a burned-out motel on the fringes of Los Angeles. He remembers dying. He knows he shouldn't exist. Is he a dream? A robot? A ghost? A clone? A simulation? In his own time, Carp pondered all of these scenarios through his fiction—and now, as he treks from Studio City to Venice Beach and onward into the paranoid sprawl of 21st-century Los Angeles, he will be called to investigate his greatest mystery yet: himself.

From Edgar Award nominee and Philip K. Dick Award winner Ben H. Winters (EC's Cruel Universe, The Last Policeman trilogy) and rising star Leomacs (EC's Epitaphs from the Abyss, Ghostlore) comes a uniquely fascinating and hilariously deranged excursion into the metatextual nexus, where existence and oblivion, past and future, genius and madness, and glitter and grim reality all meet just beyond Hollywood Boulevard.

"Benjamin is cosmically brilliant. You have never been on a trip like this." —LEV GROSSMAN (The Magicians, The Bright Sword)

"Refreshing . . . Special . . . The dialogue is snappy, with a real humor to it, and the setup is elevated by questions of consciousness. " —THE BEAT

"A vivid, thought-provoking debut that explores identity, friendship, and sci-fi legacy with a surreal wink and stellar artwork . . . Leomacs is putting in his best work yet. It's safe to say comics like this don't come around very often, and publishers like Oni Press are the scant few who would publish it." —AIPT

WRITER DAVE HILL ARTIST/COVER ARTYOM TOPILIN

AT LAST—THE TRUE STORY OF THE VIRAL HOAX SO INSANE IT COULD ONLY BE TOLD AS A COMIC BOOK!

From the mind of multi-hyphenate writer-comedian-actor-musician Dave Hill (Tasteful Nudes) and breakout artist Artyom Topilin (I Hate This Place) comes the SHOCKINGLY TRUE, TERRIFYINGLY HILARIOUS, AND ONLY MODESTLY EXAGGERATED tale of how one stand-up comedian forged a secret online identity as America's first true black metal icon . . .

Two decades ago, Dave Hill and his first band set out to rock their high school auditorium in a fury of heavy metal hellfire. They failed miserably. Years later, Dave has made a new life for himself as a rising star in the New York comedy scene—a career where getting laughed at on stage is the entire point and not just a tragic consequence. But when Dave's metal ambitions are reawakened by the über self-serious "satanic" genre of Norwegian black metal, Dave creates a ridiculously hyperbolic alter ego and a band to match that, together, reignite the spark of his forgotten rock 'n' roll fantasy. But when Dave's internet-fueled rumors of Witch Taint—a metal band "so extreme that you must remove all sharp objects from the immediate area" when their music is played—spreads all the way to Europe, his story will spiral dangerously out of control as Norway's most extreme black metal butchers come to reap their revenge . . . and put everything and everyone Dave holds dear in the crosshairs (of their axes, which, truth be told, don't actually have crosshairs, but hey, it's a metaphor).

Meet Ada, an immortal vampire whose misdeeds have landed her on the doorstep of an idyllic Caribbean resort. . . . An island paradise teeming with wealthy tourists and superstitious locals—an ample food supply for the thirsty vamp looking to get away from it all!

But as Ada stalks the boundaries of her new hunting ground, she'll soon become embroiled in a deadly game of cat and mouse by moonlight . . . as an older, wiser, and entirely different kind of predator reveals its own carnal hunger for greed and power. Who will survive when a brand-new kind of BLOOD TYPE declares war on a cunning bloodsucker with nothing left to lose . . . and what will be left of them?!

From Hugo Award–nominated writer Corinna Bechko (EC's Cruel Universe, Green Lantern: Earth One) and Eisner Award–winning artist Andrea Sorrentino (Gideon Falls, Batman: Killer Smile), the fangs are coming out as EC's own blood-splattered, bon vivant vampire Ada rises into the history-marking, first-ever standalone horror series from the most notorious name in terror!

Get your just desserts with this pun-tastic buddy comedy, featuring Peanut and Jelly!

Every morsel falls into place within the Foodtopia Pyramid. Well-peeled fancy folks reign from the toppings, average doughs make up the filling, and at the bottom, the odd-foods-out form the crumbs.

This is where we find Peanut and Jelly. They may be lowly employees at the Crumb Dump for now, but these ride-or-fries are determined to rise to the coveted upper crust. But when they accidentally unleash a Crumb Feeder into the city, their plans look shakier than an uneven souffle!

This tale has steaks, artichoke heart, and is ripe with comedy!

THE 2000 AD ART OF SEAN PHILLIPS

Lavish artbook showcasing the 2000 AD art of multi Eisner Award-winning artist of Kill Or Be Killed

WRITTEN BY Various

ILLUSTRATED BY
Sean Phillips

COVER ART BY
Sean Phillips

Sean Phillips is the multi Eisner Award-winning artist of Criminal, Kill Or Be Killed, Reckless, Fatale, Night Fever, Pulp, Where The Body Was, The Fade Out, Velvet, Sleeper, Incognito, Marvel Zombies, Kid Eternity and Hellblazer.

In a career that has so far spanned more than 30 years, he has recieved awards and acclaim at every turn.

But before his stand-out career in the US, Sean did some of his earliest work for 2000 AD - The Galaxy's Greatest Comic and its sister publication the Judge Dredd Megazine.

He co-created fan-favourite characters Devlin Waugh and Armitage as well as drawing for classic strips Judge Dredd and Sinister/Dexter.

This collection forms a retrospective of Phillips' work for 2000 AD and shows how his art evolved from the fully painted work and collage of the early 1990s, to the familiar style he employs on hit books today.

INTERVIEW SPECIAL!

It's the 20th anniversary of the first appearance of the Slitheen, so who better to speak to than the person who is drawing them, series artist Sami Kivelä! Titan's Doctor Who editor Jonathan Wilkins sat down with Sami to discuss this new series.

SAMI KIVELÄ - INTERIOR ART AND COVER ARTIST

JW: Was Doctor Who something on your radar that you wanted to draw?

SK: I've always thought that Doctor Who is a fascinating series, but, to be honest, I didn't know too much about The Doctor before I was asked if I would be interested in drawing the new Fifteenth Doctor miniseries.

I usually work on creator-owned comics, so this was an interesting opportunity to do something different. It's been truly insightful to dive into the Doctor Who world and to learn more about all the characters.

JW: There are a variety of new characters in this story. Who are your favorites to draw and which characters were the most challenging to bring to life?

SK: Of the ones I've designed for the series, I think Methelough is my favorite. She's a funny and quirky character, which I really like. But I also think her design was the hardest one to figure out – mainly because her initial description was quite close to an already existing character in another series. So, it took a few tries to develop something original.

However, the most challenging character is definitely H-8. There is so much going on in its design, but I guess I can only blame myself for that, ha!

JW: Which sequence did you most enjoy drawing?

There are many scenes I've enjoyed drawing so far (I'm working on the third issue at the moment), but if I had to pick one, it would probably be the underwater scene from the second issue. It's something I hadn't done before on that scale, so it was a nice challenge. It also gave me a chance to play more with Methelough's character and to try to come up with the way she acts and moves beneath the surface.

JW: How does Doctor Who differ from your previous work?

SK: I don't think it actually differs that much from my scifi/fantasy work aside from the fact that it's based on a licensed property and the main character is well-known from other comics and media. Doctor Who is also more suitable for bit of a younger audience than my previous work, as I've drawn quite a few comics with mature content. That's also one of the reasons why this project is so engaging!

JW: You've also drawn a series of covers for this run. Is the process for cover illustration different from that of sequential art?

SK: Yes, the process differs a bit. With a cover illustration, you try to capture the essence of the book in one image that (hopefully!) makes readers want to pick up and read the book. With interior pages, the main goal is to help the story flow from panel to panel so that it makes sense to readers and at the same time entertains them.

MARVEL COMICS IN THE EARLY 1960s

by PIERRE COMTOIS

SOFTCOVER	$29.95	224 PAGES	BW	STD.
0125TM917		Previously solicited

This new volume in the ongoing "MARVEL COMICS IN THE..." series takes you all the way back to that company's legendary beginnings, when gunfighters traveled the West and monsters roamed the Earth! The company's output in other genres influenced the development of their super-hero characters from THOR to SPIDER-MAN, and featured here are the best of those stories not covered previously, completing issue-by-issue reviews of every Marvel comic of note from 1961-1965! Presented are scores of handy, easy to reference new entries on AMAZING FANTASY, TALES OF SUSPENSE (and ASTONISH), STRANGE TALES, JOURNEY INTO MYSTERY, RAWHIDE KID, plus issues of FANTASTIC FOUR, AVENGERS, AMAZING SPIDER-MAN, and others that weren't in the previous 1960s edition. It's author PIERRE COMTOIS' last word on Marvel's early years, when JACK KIRBY, STEVE DITKO, and DON HECK, together with writer/editor STAN LEE (and brother LARRY!), built an unprecedented new universe of excitement!

AMERICAN COMIC BOOK CHRONICLES: 1940-44 (New Printing)

by KURT F. MITCHELL with ROY THOMAS

HARDCOVER	$49.95	288 PAGES	FC	STD.
0825TM1171	Previously solicited

The AMERICAN COMIC BOOK CHRONICLES series of FULL-COLOR HARDCOVERS documents every decade of comic book history from the 1940s to today! This volume spotlights the "Golden Age" of the comic book industry, covering the earliest adventures of Batman, Captain Marvel, Superman, and Wonder Woman; and America's entry into World War II was presaged by the arrival of WILL EISNER's Uncle Sam, HARRY SHORTEN and IRV NOVICK's The Shield, and JOE SIMON and JACK KIRBY's Captain America. It also saw the debut of a fumbling red-haired high school student named Archie Andrews, but most of all, 1940-44 was the age of the "packagers" when studios headed by men like HARRY A CHESLER, WILL EISNER, and JERRY IGER churned out material for new comic book companies that published genres from funny animal stories to crime tales to jungle sagas to science-fiction adventures. Taken together, the AMERICAN COMIC BOOK CHRONICLES series forms a cohesive, linear overview of the entire landscape of comics history, sure to be an invaluable resource for ANY comic book enthusiast!
